JOIN FELLOW WOMEN IN BIOHEALTH FOR OUR OUR MENTORING INFO SESSION

Women in Biohealth (WiB) is hosting an information session for our WiB Mentoring Program. The mentorship program is designed to create connections among women within the biohealth field. Mentees benefit from the experience of their mentors to guide them in achieving their professional goals. Mentors can give back to the biohealth community by sharing their knowledge.

Mentors and mentees convene for regular one-on-one meetings in person or online from March 4th, 2024, to May 20th, 2024. Both parties agree to meet six times within three months as their schedule allows, with a recommendation to meet biweekly. Support is provided by program administrators in the form of kick-off and wrap-up events, check-in emails, mentor-mentee tip sheets, and guiding worksheets.

WiB Mentoring is appropriate for professionals at all experience levels looking to make connections within the biohealth community.
